First step to downloading your digital credit is to make sure you are logged in by clicking the little person icon in the circle in the top right corner.
(your login info should have been included in your gallery email)

Once you are logged in there will be a "credit available" button near the top right of your gallery.
Click that and then click the button that says use credit.

Once you have selected the button "use credit", this window will appear

After making your selections you will see your selected photos in the squares that previously said DIGITAL now hit the submit to photographer button below the images
The next step is VERY important so don't go anywhere after clicking this button

Now this is the most important step, downloading your digitals!
Make sure you click the download now button before doing or clicking anything else.

You will be directed to a page where you will put in your email address and click submit, after that you should get an email with your downloads to the address you provided!

Enjoy your digitals!
